Bridges help people cross rivers

By MICHELLE DUNNEN

How do you cross a river when you don't have a bridge? How do you cross a river when you don't have a bridge? How do you cross a river when you don't have a bridge?

Bridges have helped mankind traverse mountains, oceans and the like for thousands of years. And, throughout that time, bridges have evolved from a simple log bridge across a narrow stream to highly complex structures spanning miles of shallow waterways, such as the 24-mile-long Lake Pontchartraine Causeway near New Orleans, La.

To Do:

The next time your family visits Discovery Center Museum, try to find the best different arch bridges and one suspension bridge at Rock River Discovery Park. If you want to learn how engineers build bridges and buildings, you might want to participate in our upcoming Learning Architecture Camp, from 9 a.m. to noon Wednesday, July 26, through Friday, July 28, from 10 a.m. to 12 p.m. The camp will feature engineering and architecture with blocks.

with blocks later. Call Discovery Center Museum at 303.415.1100 for admission fees and registration information.

To build your own bridge or building at home, you will need:

- Paper straws
- Gum drops

By joining the "paper" straws in to the gum drops, you can join them together to create your own structure. How high can you make a tower stand? How long of a span can you get to a bridge?

I think they may be onto something!

I guess the head bone was attached to the leg bone after that happened.

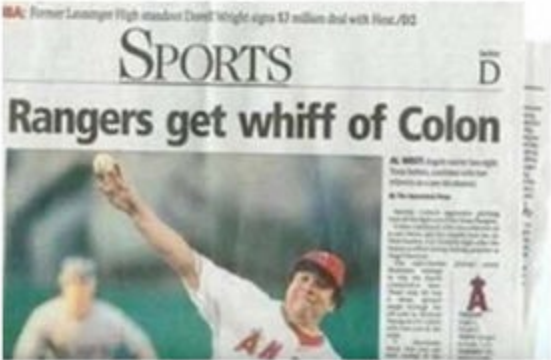

I am speechless!

A record unlikely to be broken.

The judge apparently has a list of lawyers he doesn't like.

They could advise those city officials about why the sewer smells so bad...

The bra celebrates a pair of historic milestones this year

It's time to mark two important milestones in the moment that got the cultural pot stirred as much attention for her image as her music.

Bras as underwear were eventually joined by bustiers and corset tops (without bones in them). Then slips started being worn as dresses. Camisoles became a dressier kind of tank top. And under-
